June 2025

"FRIENDS FOR FUN, SAFETY, AND KNOWLEDGE"

NEXT GET-TOGETHER: Tuesday 6/10/25 — American Legion, Post 4, 8355 US-42, Florence, KY 41042. 6pm Social Hours, bring your meal to eat. 7pm Meeting.

The website now features an Event Calendar which lists dates for all social, camping and rides. Details for each type of event are located separately. Ride event details can be found here Ride Schedule.

Welcome to the River Valley Riders, "The G", a local chapter of Wing'D Riders, located in Northern Kentucky (Florence). We are a group of like-minded motorcyclists who gather to ride! We welcome all brands of motorcycles.

Dinner Ride—Milford Schoolhouse Restaurant

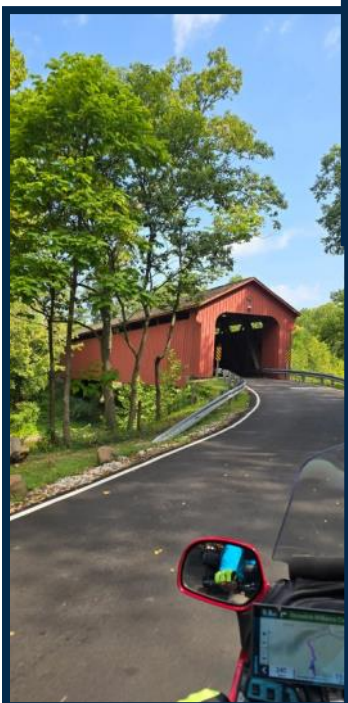

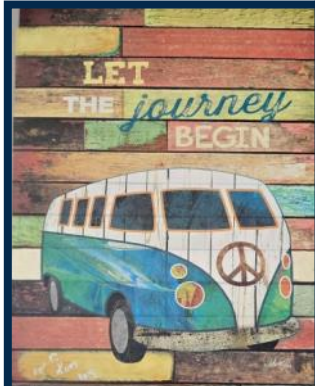

It was a beautiful day for a ride! After winding through the backroads of Ohio, our dinner location was the Milford Schoolhouse Restaurant. This is housed in a Civil War era building circa 1863. The menu is hand-written on the blackboard. You select your entrée and it's served family style with mash potatoes, gravy, green beans, corn and corn bread. They start you out with a salad as you read the menu.

They have a lot of selections to please everyone. I highly recommend saving room for dessert — try their chocolate peanut butter pie. Yum!

Lunch Ride—Plain Folk Cafe

Another great day for a ride! This time we headed to Plain Folk Café in Pleasant Plain, OH. Their menu consist of soup, salad, sandwiches, wraps and gourmet grill cheese. They specialize in grill cheese and have a large selection.

My Most Memorable Ride

While trying to think about my most memorable ride, I quickly realized that I have so many that I can't narrow it down to one. I've been fortunate enough to have ridden in 40 of the 48 lower states, both with others and alone. I've made two documented Iron Butt Rides (1000 miles in less than 24 hours), plus a couple other ones that I didn't document. I've completed the Master Traveler Award for the Iron Butt Association, which required getting at least 50 National Park or National Historic Site stamps in at least 25 different states in less than 1 year, as well as camping trips and numerous multi-day trips, and I've thoroughly enjoyed all of them. I've learned so much from others while traveling, as well as a few lessons that I picked up myself, and one of those lessons is what I've decided to share.

When I first joined GWRRA and began attending Chapter G gatherings, one of the things that grabbed me pretty quickly was all the traveling stories I heard people talking about. I had never taken a trip on a motorcycle up to that point and I couldn't wait to give it a try. The first trip Leah and I made together on the bike was to Branson, Missouri. We had ridden together many times, but just short-day rides, so this was brand new to both of us. I had recently purchased all the fancy riding gear, consisting of Joe Rocket Riding Suits, and the weather on our departure morning was chilly with a misty rain, so the suits were perfect. As we got into St. Louis, the weather had gotten pretty warm and those suits were quickly becoming uncomfortable, and Leah tried to persuade me to take them off. Unfortunately, we didn't have a trailer, and the saddle bags and trunk were packed so tightly that we couldn't have put anything else in there including one of those pressed penny souvenirs you see everywhere. She accepted that we were going to have to keep them on, and we made it safely to our room in Branson, where we were able to put the suits away and enjoy our weeklong stay. The riding in the area was great and we accidentally discovered the town of Eureka Springs, Arkansas while we were out enjoying the Ozarks. Everything was just beautiful until we started packing for home and realized we were going to have to wear those suits again, and the weather forecast was for sunshine and warm temperatures. Shortly after we began the trip home, I had to stop for gas and the begging began to remove the suits. She even suggested to hold them while we rode. Those are some pretty expensive suits and I wasn't about to take the chance of her letting go of something, so I insisted that we wear them. As I pulled out of that gas station, my thoughts began to become obsessed with the fact that I was going to have to get a trailer if I ever expected her to travel with me again.

Our next big trip was to Wing-Ding 32 in Des Moines, Iowa, and you better believe I had a trailer for that trip, and have had one on every other trip she has taken with me. I call it her traveling suitcase. I'd be willing to bet that I'm not the only one who has a story like this. Stay safe my friends and Leah and I, along with her traveling suitcase hope to see you on the road soon.

We are looking forward to the Ride-in coming up June 6th & 7th. Mayfield is hosting and from what I have heard, it should be a great time. Great rides are planned. Hope to see many of you there. If you are doing the Passport both Chapter Y and Chapter K plan to hold their June meeting at the Ride-In. That's the 2 hardest chapter for Chapter G to get due to the distance. So, here's your opportunity to get both!

June also has many of us going to South Dakota. We had a meeting after our May gathering and have planned lots of rides and a dinner at the Chuckwagon. Melissa and I are really looking forward to this trip as we have never been out west. If you have decided to go and haven't told us, let us know and we'll be sure you get the planned rides and activities.

John and I had our first camping experience in our new to us Class C. However, it was the first weekend in May and other than a few hours when we first got there, it rained the entire time. It did allow us to organize the inside of the camper, and get a few things setup. Hopefully our next camping outing will be better weather. Still it was nice to be camping.

Hope you are working on the KRR Bingo, only one bingo is required, but you can do more. Also, check out the River Valley Rider Chapter G Bingo that Donita created. You will get a ticket for each bingo you complete. Most of what is on the RVR bingo is on the KRR Bingo. Have fun with both! Instructions for both on provided on the bottom of each Bingo.

The Blast is coming up in August and it is right in our backyard at General Butler State Park. The registration form is in the newsletter and on the Kentucky Road Rider website. Again, lots of great rides, dinner and entertainment is planned. There is even going to be a live band on Friday night.

Be on the lookout for your new JMC Rider membership card. John and I received ours the other week and I have heard a few others have received theirs.

Are you looking for a way to put some miles on the motorcycle while also viewing some of Mother Nature's finest wonders? Why not visit some of Kentucky's waterfalls. You might also get some exercise while you are at it.

The largest such phenomenon in the state is Cumberland Falls on Highway 90 in Corbin. "Known as the 'Niagara of the South,' the 125-foot curtain of water falling into a boulder-strewn gorge is dramatic day or night. But it is only during a full moon that you can see the moonbow, a phenomenon not found anywhere else in the Western Hemisphere! The "moonbow," also called a white rainbow or lunar rainbow, is formed just like a rainbow—light is refracted in tiny water droplets—and appears for the two or so days, as long as the sky is clear, on either end of the full moon." (KY State Parks Website) In June, the Moonbow will be visible on the nights of June 9 – 13. In July, the dates are the 8th thru the 12th. The Park offers a lodge, cabins or camping if you want to make an overnight or longer stay. As is the case with all the KY State Resort Parks, there is a restaurant. You can also visit Eagle Falls at this park. The 44-foot-high Falls is accessed by a 3-mile loop trail.

Not far from Cumberland Falls is Yahoo Falls in the Big South Fork National River and Recreation Area. At 113 feet tall, it is considered one of the tallest waterfalls in the state. The hike to and from the falls is 4.2 miles. If you want to hike an additional .75 miles, you can view Yahoo Arch on the same trail.

While in this area, you can visit Princess Falls in Stearns. This Falls is on Lick Creek in Daniel Boone National Forest. You will need to take the 2-mile long Sheltowee Trace Trail to reach the 13-foot-high Falls.

Taking KY Route 92 west to the Monticello area will lead you to Town Creek Falls. Located on Elk Spring Creek, Town Creek Falls has a 50-foot drop and is 80 feet wide. Continuing west on KY Route 90 and north on KY Route 734 will lead you to the Seventy-Six Falls Recreation Area. 76 Falls is where Indian Creek meets Lake Cumberland. The reviews promote visiting the Falls from a boat on the Lake.

There are still more waterfalls to see in the Commonwealth, but this will give you a start to adding those miles for the Chapter G annual mileage contest.

RIDERS EDUCATION

With the return of favorable weather, most of us have gotten back to riding. Many of us like to ride in groups, enjoying the hobby we love with others of like mind. Group motorcycle riding is a philosophy that emphasizes a blend of safety, communication, and camaraderie while simultaneously requiring riders to be aware of their surroundings, to maintain proper spacing, and to communicate effectively. It is about riding as a team, where everyone relies on and respects each other to ensure a safe and enjoyable experience.

Here are some important points of group motorcycle riding philosophy:

Safety: proper spacing, staggered formations, and awareness of road conditions.

Communication: hand signals and CB/Bluetooth communication to alert other riders about changes in speed, direction, or potential hazards.

Responsibility: realizing that each rider is responsible for their own safety and the safety of the others in the group.

Respect: acknowledging and collaborating with the leader, the group, and other road users.

Having fun: emphasizing the shared experience and camaraderie of riding together, while maintaining safety and respect.

Group riding is an active, constantly changing, and dynamic event. Conditions on the road are always in flux due to traffic, road conditions, actions from other users, and natural occurrences such as weather and animal activity. This requires a foundation of trust among the participants in the ride. Group riding does not excuse the rider from sound judgement or safe practices. Each rider is responsible for his own decisions, regardless of the group dynamic.

There are several ways each rider can provide the respect and consideration he expects from the others in the group. It is important to maintain lane position especially in tight turns and in traffic. Riders on the inside of a right-hand turn should try their best to stay on the right side of the road, especially when turning from a stop, as at an intersection. At stop signs and traffic lights, the group should collapse together, with each rider moving up next to the person ahead. Proper lane position will normally allow enough room for a bike and a trike to stop next to each other. Close formation at a stop allows the group to get through the intersection in less time, reducing the exposure of all the riders to cross traffic and left turning vehicles.

Remember that your actions have consequences. Every time you brake (for an obstacle or entering a turn), accelerate, or decelerate, you immediately affect ALL of the riders behind you. Any sudden action you make will require a sudden reaction from ALL of the other riders. Always do your best and signal your intentions well ahead to avoid causing panic among those riders who are following you.

Be aware of the differences in the vehicles in your group. Generally, if a vehicle participating in the group ride has less than three wheels, that vehicle will have a great deal of difficulty staying upright without rider input. And the slower that vehicle is moving, the more rider input is required. Group rides these days usually consist of more multi-wheeled vehicles than two-wheeled motorcycles. Many of the operators of these multi-wheeled vehicles were skilled riders of two wheels. Maybe this describes you. Do you remember riding on two wheels and the effort it took to keep the bike balanced and smooth during slow speed operation?

We all know we should ride our own ride, and we are responsible for our own actions. But this does not mean that you can do what you want without regard to the effects on other road users. We all have responsibility to each other when we interact on the highway, regardless of the setting. Using the highway is a privilege, not a right. Be respectful and patient so we all get along and arrive alive.

Congratulations to our winners on Tuesday, May 13, 2025, Chapter Get Together!! Lucky Tom Reilly won 3x that night. Tom won the $10 "Membership" Draw this month. Chris Davis won 1st place for $29, Tom won 2nd place for $17, and Tom won 3rd place for $12.

Thank you to all who participated in the May Gathering.

Also, we want to thank Dean Hedger. He did a great job selling our 50/30/20 tickets. If it was not for Dean selling tickets this month and our wonderful members/guests purchasing our 50/30/20 tickets, we would not have the opportunity to do the fun events that we do each year.

CAMPING COORDINATOR

Summer semi officially starts Memorial Day Weekend and that is the real kick off of camping season. Are you ready? I am and I plan to encompass all things camping when I am camping. Relaxing, great food, bonfires, great friends and the laughter of my grandchildren. All of this has one important factor...making memories.

Did you know that Dr. Phill one time prescribed a camping trip for a family that always seemed to be at odds. They weren't getting along, they never enjoyed spending time with one another. Each member of the family seemed to be doing their own thing and they never seemed to connect. What a terrible situation as parents and what a horrible lifestyle to live. If you can't get along with the people you live with, life must be miserable.

So he sent them on a camping trip. They had to live in close quarters, work together for meals, to create fun things to do and spend TIME together. They probably considered it a punishment. In truth, he probably saved that family and they will remember this trip always. I really don't know what the follow up was from this trip. I want to believe it had a positive outcome. If anyone knows, please share the details with me.

The important message here is to make some memories this summer. I know this is the camping spot of the newsletter, you can make memories without camping. But camping memories are great! There have been good and bad camping trips, but they all contain memories. So I hope you have a summer filled with memory making experiences.

MOTORIST AWARENESS COORDINATOR

Hello Chapter G,

I recently went on one of The River Valley Rider's wonderful rides to Pleasant Plain, Ohio, where the group had a wonderful lunch together. The ride leaders, Steve and Leslie, know exactly how to lead a safe and fun ride. Thank you for always doing a great job.

Riding in a group can be difficult for both the leader, tail and the riders. Steve and Leslie always have a planned route. Sometimes a planned route does not always work due to unforeseen circumstances such as construction, road closures, and accidents. At one point, during our ride, the group was divided by a traffic light and our leaders displayed the use of alternate routes. They were calm and collective, understood the situation, and quickly solved the problem.

Citizens Band Radio (CB Radio) has always been one of the best parts of the Goldwing. It safely allows the riders to communicate about hazards, turns, stops, lane changes, wildlife, and even emergencies. I enjoy the River Valley Riders especially because Leslie and Steve are great at communication.

Now that many of us ride trikes, proper spacing and staggering is still very important. Our group safely rode in proper spacing with staggered positions making it possible to see hazards that may appear in front of you, leaving you the ability to make an emergency stop, if necessary. Always scan ahead of obstacles and traffic that has stopped in front of you.

Let's all continue to ride safely.

Yay, we finally made the Milford Schoolhouse ride this year. No hurricane in sight; a sunny coolish day around 65 degrees. Lots of curves, hills and a beautiful covered bridge to ride across. Although we had many turns to navigate, we kept together with many thanks to Donita, our tail, and Rick C. relaying turns as we had 10 bikes. We also got some help from a nice Harley rider who blocked so we could all make a left turn in a small town! Earlier on in the ride we came up to a stop and a couple of sport bike riders put on a show for us, revving their engines, pumping their fists and waving to all; so very fun and cool of them. The final leg of the ride to the destination was to go thru Indian Hill, which if you don't know is full of "old money" huge mansions, and some new ones too! One house had a 7-car garage and was adding on another 3-car garage. I think somebody mentioned it was Rick C's dream house, to which he readily agreed. We had great fun negotiating the hills and curves here and gawking at how the other half live.

The food was plentiful here, served family style. Again, a great place to try if you haven't been there.

Our second ride in May was to another converted schoolhouse, Plain Folk Cafe; an unintended theme, out in Pleasant Plain OH. 14 of us started off on a sunny 65–72-degree day for a long 3.5-hour ride to the destination. Yes, there was a comfort stop (a.k.a bathroom break), but you have to ask somebody who was on the ride about that experience. Again, many different curves, hills but the same covered bridge as in the Milford Schoolhouse ride. This gave many of us the opportunity to take the bingo "thumbs up" picture for the State Bingo game and our own RVR bingo version. Additionally, we saw several murals; one on a donut shop and another on a rural cinder block building. If you don't do Facebook, you can see the 2 murals and the covered bridge on a snip of the Facebook post I made, below this article.

Dave, the owner of Plain Folk Café was kind enough to come over to our table and tell us a bit of the history of the schoolhouse. Turns out he grew up only 3 miles from it and most of the inside is original, including the blackboard. They have live music and an open mike night every week. He said the talent that comes out for these are amazing. He noted several had gone on to national recognition; getting their first start in front of a live audience at his Plain Folk Café. The inside is decorated in a music theme, as Dave was in a band and has a huge love of music. He was very appreciative of our group choosing his restaurant.

Interestingly enough, we again had some good Samaritans holding traffic so our group of 11 bikes could make turns. Makes you feel good that some people can spare a few extra minutes a do something nice for others!

Again, many thanks to Donita who selflessly offered to ride tail again, and to Jerry for helping out on the ride. We can't do all we do without these folks who take on these extra duties to make the ride safe and fun for all. THANK YOU!!!

Our next ride, in June, is after the Ride-In and after the RVR chapter meeting. You still have time to sign up!. We will be going to the Clermont House of Honey as a stop before lunch. The owner has kindly offered to give us a quick lesson on bees and honey! Her store has so many kinds of honey and wonderful products such as lip balm, beeswax candles & bowls, all of which she makes herself. The store also offers other local products, such as artisan bread, wildflower bouquets, goats milk skin care products and so much more. Maybe you'll find something for a gift for a special somebody. The owner also gave us a couple of small gift bags we are going to raffle off on the day of the ride. Nope, no tickets to buy, I'll just put your name in my virtual hat (I have an app for that).

We are working on a new restaurant as we decided against our initial choice due to extremely poor service when we were out pre-riding and stopped there for lunch. We have a couple of ideas, but our main goal for this ride was visiting the House of Honey.

We are excited to attend the Ride-In, generously hosted by Chapter Y in Mayfield. Hope to see you there!

Time is drawing to a close for your opportunity to join us for the July 18th Y'all's Baseball Game . The June Get-Together will be your last chance to sign up and pay for your tickets. This will make it possible for me to distribute the tickets at the July Get-Together so you will not have to look for me at the gate the night of the game. We have seats right behind home plate and there will be fireworks after the game. We already have over twenty G-folk going, so don't miss out! It's going to be a fun time. The game begins at 7pm and we will be meeting for dinner at Acapulco's on US 42 (across from Wildwood Inn) at 5. As always, if you are unable to come to the Get-Together, but still wish to go to the game, just contact me and let me know. Hope to see you there!

The Longest Ride: A Journey of Half a Million Miles

Ever dreamed of ditching your day job to sit on your bike and ride into the sunset?

That's exactly what Emilio Scotto did back in 1985. 10 years, almost 300 countries, 13 passports and 457,000 miles later, he would make it to the Guinness World Record as the rider who's made the longest ever motorcycle trip.

The journey was by no means smooth. Scotto got mugged in Brazil, crossed paths with all sorts of outcasts on his way across the Amazon River, and even got arrested in Nicaragua on charges of spying for the CIA!

His trusted Honda Gold Wing took him to all corners of the world, including Europe behind the Iron Curtain, Greenland, Egypt, African and Asian deserts and steppes, Australia, Japan.

Welcome to the state-wide Kentucky Road Riders Bingo Challenge! It is simple to play and hopefully includes something for everyone. Just pick your favorite row of 9 items (vertical, horizontal or diagonal), find each item/location, and snap a picture with your thumb up in front of each. Once you have collected all 9 pics, email those to mepc@kyroadriders.org. The Challenge will run until August 10th. The winner will be randomly selected from all completed entries received by that date and will be announced at the Blast at General Butler State Park August 14-16. *In case anyone is interested special recognition will be given to anyone who chooses to do a cover-all :-)

You can also get the form on the KY Rider Website.

Okay, I know this might look familiar, but here's the deal... River Valley Riders deserves an annual ride challenge. The KRR Team has already released their ride challenge, and I must admit it's a very good game. So, we're just gonna borrow some of it. This is Scavenger Hunt BINGO. All these places can be found in Northern Kentucky. Ride to them, take a picture of your "Thumbs Up". Just as with BINGO, all you need to do is get one solid line (across / down/ diagonal) and that will get you a drawing entry. The more lines you get, the more entries you'll receive. All "BINGO's" will need to be turned in by the September Get-Together, and the winner will be drawn at the end-of-season picnic.

Now for the BEST PART!!! All your pix can also be used for the State Ride Challenge! Now, have FUN and get out and RIDE!!!
