River Valley Riders—Chapter G

August 2025

"FRIENDS FOR FUN, SAFETY, AND KNOWLEDGE"

NEXT GET-TOGETHER: Tuesday 8/12/25 — American Legion, Post 4, 8355 US-42, Florence, KY 41042. 6pm Social Hours, bring your meal to eat. 7pm Meeting.

The website now features an Event Calendar which lists dates for all social, camping and rides. Details for each type of event are located separately. Ride event details can be found here Ride Schedule.

Welcome to the River Valley Riders, "The G", a local chapter of Wing'D Riders, located in Northern Kentucky (Florence). We are a group of like-minded motorcyclists who gather to ride! We welcome all brands of motorcycles.

Diego's Mexican Grill, Madison, IN

The group was small, but the food was really good. Our Lunch ride took us to Diego's Mexican Grill in Madison, IN. Our ride took us thru some cute little towns—Farmers Retreat and Friendship.

Y'ALL GAME

We had a great time at the Y'all's Game. Once again, thanks Donita for organizing this event and getting us some great seats.

Our night started out with dinner at Acapulco Mexican Restaurant. Then it was off to the ball-game. I would like to say that Y'all's won, but unfortunately they lost to the Joliet Slammers 18-2.

SPONSOR'S BLOCK

Happy Summer!

This space usually is filled with a story about my best, or worst, ride. However, after having been on a bike for over six decades, it's kinda hard to pick out just one.

I think that riding is something that you do, not for just one reason, but many. It's difficult, if not impossible, to explain to a non-rider what it is that makes you want to get on a bike and ride.

Going for a ride, especially with a group of like-minded people is always enjoyable and something to look forward to!

Maybe it's the freedom or maybe it's the enjoyment of being outside - I don't know, but I DO know that it's addictive! Guess that's why I'm still riding.

If you're reading this, you probably have some of the same feelings. You're a prisoner to the weather, but that's just part of the experience.

Ride safe and ride often!

John Keiter

CHAPTER DIRECTORS

So, my daughter Melissa and I joined a group that went to South Dakota. I will say that the west is beautiful country and I would highly recommend visiting the area. However, I would not drive to get there again. If you seen one corn field, one wind farm, you've seen another. It is a very flat drive to get there thru Indiana, Iowa and the eastern part of South Dakota. But once, you get there, there is so much to see. Our main goals were to see Mount Rushmore and Devil's Tower, and we got to see both. I wish we had more time to see more of the sites, guess I'll just have to go back.

If you get a chance, go to Mount Rushmore's night program. It was very informative and very moving. At the end of the film, they invited all active military, veterans, and gold star family members to the stage to be honored. A group was asked to help retire the colors for the evening. I would also recommend the Chuckwagon dinner show, it was a lot of fun. The band was awesome and a few known celebrities made appearances.

I was recently reading the August issue of Rider Magazine which its main theme is the upcoming 100 anniversary of U S Route 66 in 2026. The articles told tales of the wonderful adventures the authors had experienced over the years on "The Mother Road." They reminded me of my own misadventures on sections of that old highway back in 2011.

To set the stage, let me explain the genesis of the trip. My friend and riding buddy, Jim, at that time liked to take long trips, most of the time on a whim. We had taken many trips east and south to Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee. Several trips were made north and west to Illinois, Wisconsin, Yellowstone National Park and Glacier National Park. There were two common things about all these trips. He would ask me to plan the route and he would always cut the trips short after 3 or 4 days on the road. At the time I was riding a 1995 Goldwing and my friend was riding a newer Harley.

The Route 66 trip was no different. I suggested we leave late morning on a Saturday and stop somewhere south of Chicago. This would allow us to start Route 66 in Chicago on a Sunday morning early and avoid the congestion downtown. Needless to say, on Saturday afternoon Jim decided we should go on into Chicago and start Route 66 then. However, when we got into downtown Chicago there was an event happening with all the streets crowded. After sitting in traffic for several hours, the Goldwing overheated and would not start for over an hour and half. After we finally got started, we only rode south for about an hour where we would have stopped when we reached the outskirts of Chicago. On Sunday, we followed Route 66 to Springfield, Illinois, where we visited the various Lincoln Historical Sites. Jim decided that we needed to make time, so we took Interstate 55 to St. Louis where we once again rode a portion of the Mother Road. This pattern was repeated most days with us taking some of Route 66 then jumping on an interstate. When we finally reached Los Angeles, California, the following Saturday, we wound up staying in a less than desirable area, as we have not made any reservations. The next morning, when we went to leave, Jim discovered someone had tried to steal his motorcycle during the night. They attempted to remove the ignition. I had parked in a different section of the underground garage and no attempt had been made to abscond with my bike. I inquired at the hotel front desk to view video from their surveillance cameras, only to learn the cameras were inoperable. The police were notified who just made a phone report of the incident. Several phone calls were made before reaching a Harley Davidson dealership that was open on Sunday. Jim was able to start his bike and we made a stop at the Dealership, but they were unable to make any repairs. They suggested he just keep riding and have it repaired upon returning home. The original plan was for us to follow U.S. 50 back and we only rode portion of it, so he could get back.

Waiting for the bike had overheated.

On the way home in the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

Are We a Dying Breed??

As Membership Enhancement for our Chapter, one of my jobs is to make sure that our members are enjoying their Chapter experience and that we are for the most part a happy, healthy, Chapter. With Chapter G, this is not a difficult task, but the other part of the job is a little more challenging. I'm charged with growing the chapter to KEEP it going, and this I find to be a bit more difficult. I am continually approached by members who make statements about the dwindling size of the chapter, or that fact that new members are few and far between. I know we have all put thought into these questions, so I am providing a little bit of research.

As it turns out, motorcycles sales as a whole are dropping in many major markets in the US and Europe. There are many reasons for this decline: Economic factors including higher interest rates, inflation, and market instability have made a high-price purchase more risky than before. But social and behavioral changes are the ones that might seal the deal for the future of the leisure motorcycle hobby. Baby boomers have always been big supporters of motorcycling, but this demographic is now aging out of the market. The younger folks don't seem to be hopping on the bandwagon at a comparable rate which is causing an overall decrease in riders. Also, younger generations seem to have different ideas when it comes to fun and entertainment. You may have noticed how popular computer gaming, social media, and television have become. Look outside on a nice afternoon in the summer and you will see...well, not much. The younger generation really seems to like the air conditioning. And one more factor that is causing a drop in riders is the ever-increasing sale of EV and hybrid vehicles. How many of you first started riding because it took less gasoline to run your bike and you could save money going to work? Well, electric vehicles and hybrids can run for less than your motorcycle, and that is providing you actually have to "GO" to work, because there are lots of people now who just work from home.

So what is the answer?? Are we a dying breed? If we want to keep that from happening we have to instill in our children and grandchildren the importance of having actual (flesh and blood) friends. We need to let them know how much fun we have together and how, in some cases, the support that we give and get from each other is something that you just can't get online. When I am questioned about the lifeline of the chapter, I always say, that I don't know what will happen down the road, but I'm gonna ride this wave as far as it will take me. I hope you'll grab your board and ride along.

Welcome to August and the arrival (finally) of the heat and humidity of summer. But the heat of the daytime is nothing like the heat in your exhaust system. Combine that with the humidity in the air, the byproducts of combustion which are basically anhydrous acids, and the fact that a motorcycle exhaust system is unprotected metal on the inside, and you have a recipe for rust and corrosion. Our exhaust systems are very well made, but after many years even the best exhaust systems will start to show the effects of aging.

The first place to check is any clamp or fastener. These places tend to catch and keep the road grime which also holds the acid rain that can eat pits into the pipes, even into the chrome plating. Next, check around the welds. By their very nature, the welds are subject to early failure due to the energy put into them during the welding process. This makes the metal in the welded area more prone to the effects of oxidation. And the third place to check is any sharp angle in the formed metal fittings and tubing of the exhaust system. Sharp angles tend to act as stress risers, where any force on the metal, be it expansion and contraction from thermal changes, or flexing from vibration from the engine or roadway, tend to be focused and lead to cracking. These cracks again tend to attract dirt and moisture.

If your bike is new or in really fine condition without much rust on the exhaust system, then prevention is easy, mainly consisting of washing and periodic scrubbing followed by some aluminized paint around the welds. If you or the previous owner have been less than diligent in the care of the exhaust system, and you find some cracks, there is still hope. Several products on the market can extend the service life of your pipes. Some are high temperature epoxies. Others are mixes of high temperature polymers and metal dust, like Blue Magic® Quik Steel™. This product is applied on warm days above 80 degrees Fahrenheit and is applied directly to the damaged area. Liberal applications spread widely over the surrounding surface help to hold the area together. After four hours of initial curing, it is time to go for a ride to finish-cure the repair. The heat in the exhaust makes this product stronger.

TREASURER'S

Hi Chapter G,

Congratulations to our winners on Tuesday, July 8, 2025, Chapter Get Together!! Janice Pack won the $10 "Membership" Draw this month. Carol Redd won 1st place for $28, Donita Nardi won 2nd place for $16, and Jerry Williams won 3rd place for $11.

Thank you to all who participated in the July Gathering.

Also, we want to thank Jack Redd. He did a great job selling our 50/30/20 tickets. If it was not for Jack selling tickets this month and our wonderful members/guests purchasing our 50/30/20 tickets, we would not have the opportunity to do the fun events that we do each year.

RIDE COORDINATOR

July, wow, it was hot! Hydration was key, be it plentiful fluids, cooling neck gaiters, ice packs, and/or excellent comfort stops. Our ride in early July to Indiana for excellent Mexican at Diego's and then later in July to Campbellsburg KY to Lawson's Junction, a wonderful family restaurant with good prices and huge portions! A few miles from Lawson's we stopped for ice cream at Rowlett's Milkhouse Creamery before heading home and boy, I think it was the best ice cream I've ever had. A family run creamery with incredible flavors as well as making their own butter and cheese. If you like vanilla, their vanilla ice cream won a gold medal in 2023!

As mentioned, really good comfort stops were important on both July rides and unbeknownst to us, we learned we have several "cave" men in our group. Beer Cave, that is! Dave,

Steve H and Howard "supposedly" were checking out the selection, but I think they had another goal in mind.

Many thanks to those who came out in the heat and humidity to ride with us in July. Special shout-out to Donita, for riding "tail" for both of the July rides.

Our next scheduled ride will be on Saturday August 9th to the Swampwater Grill and the Antique Mall (if you want to browse). Due to the chapter meeting being on the 12th, please call or text me if you want to sign up for the ride and haven't already done so last month at the meeting. Hoping for good weather!!!

We do have several rides that need to be rescheduled, so will get that information out as soon as possible.

Steve & Lesley Holder
RVR Ride Coordinators

We are excited to attend the Blast and participate in the guided rides. The State events give us the treat/opportunity to just enjoy following along in a ride. Hope to see many of you there.

Looking ahead to September, we have a ride to Kim's Southern Table in Germantown, KY. We rode there in the early spring and really enjoyed the food. Should be a nice ride too. We will have the info at the August & September meetings for sign-up. It should also be on the web before the meeting.

MOTORIST AWARENESS COORDINATOR

After riding in a ferocious windstorm in Nebraska on our way to Rapid City, South Dakota. We felt like the trike was more difficult to handle than the motorcycles that we had owned in the past. We found the somewhat logical answer via Copilot:

Riding in a windstorm can be quite challenging, regardless of the type of vehicle. However, there are some differences between a 2-wheel motorcycle and a trike that might make one easier to handle than the other in such conditions.

A 2-wheel motorcycle is generally more agile and can be easier to maneuver quickly. However, it is also more susceptible to being pushed around by strong winds due to its lighter weight and smaller contact area with the ground. This can make it more difficult to maintain stability and control in a windstorm.

On the other hand, a trike, with its three wheels, offers greater stability and a larger contact area with the ground. This can make it less likely to be pushed around by the wind, providing a more stable ride. However, trikes are typically less agile and harder to maneuver quickly compared to 2-wheel motorcycles.

In summary, while a trike might offer more stability in a windstorm, a 2-wheel motorcycle could be easier to maneuver. The choice ultimately depends on the rider's comfort and experience with each type of vehicle. Stay safe and ride carefully!

EVENTS COORDINATOR

RVR Events

Hello River Valley Riders. The annual Y'all's game was a whole lot of fun. We had 18 members in attendance and our seats behind home plate gave us a great view of the game. As with most nights lately, it was warm, but we had a small breeze blowing and our seats were in the shade, so it was a nice evening with friends. The Y'all's didn't have a great night, but I can't remember a game that we've been to yet that they actually won. But there were fireworks; win or lose. As I was saying my goodbyes at the end of the game, I laid down the statement, "Well, we lose some and we lose some", and a very profound statement came back to me from a very wise member (some of you might even call him a wise guy). He said, "We never lose when we're together". Those words hit deep, and I had to smile. We all know it's true, and it would make our lives brighter if we just remembered that all the time.

Next month (September) will be our end of summer picnic. It's so hard to believe that another year is quickly passing by. The theme this year will be Celebration, so please sign up and prepare your party face! It's gonna be a real good time!

Donita Nardi
Events Coordinator

CAMPING COORDINATOR

We have been talking about our end of year campout all year. Next month it will finally be here, September 19-21. Some are going out on Thursday night the 18th.

On Friday night we will have our traditional Chili dinner. There will be a sign-up sheet at the August gathering for contributions to dinner. We'll also have a campers breakfast on Saturday morning.

Everyone is welcome to join us for the Chili dinner on Friday night. You are also welcome to join us for breakfast....if ya wanna get up and head that way. We'd love to have you.

I have been learning about a lot of campgrounds in KY over the past year. We are looking forward to making some fun reservations for next year. A lot of the state campgrounds have been closed because of the rain and storms this year. They can't seem to recover from the damage.

Remember there are still some camping spots available for the KY Blast at General Butler. Make sure you get your reservations made if you haven't.

There is still plenty of camping time. Let's just hope the weather let's us enjoy some additional camping time.

Welcome to the state-wide Kentucky Road Riders Bingo Challenge! It is simple to play and hopefully includes something for everyone. Just pick your favorite row of 9 items (vertical, horizontal or diagonal), find each item/location, and snap a picture with your thumb up in front of each. Once you have collected all 9 pics, email those to mepc@kyroadriders.org. The Challenge will run until August 10th. The winner will be randomly selected from all completed entries received by that date and will be announced at the Blast at General Butler State Park August 14-16. *In case anyone is interested special recognition will be given to anyone who chooses to do a cover-all :-)

You can also get the form on the KY Rider Website.

Okay, I know this might look familiar, but here's the deal... River Valley Riders deserves an annual ride challenge. The KRR Team has already released their ride challenge, and I must admit it's a very good game. So, we're just gonna borrow some of it. This is Scavenger Hunt BINGO. All these places can be found in Northern Kentucky. Ride to them, take a picture of your "Thumbs Up". Just as with BINGO, all you need to do is get one solid line (across / down/ diagonal) and that will get you a drawing entry. The more lines you get, the more entries you'll receive. All "BINGO's" will need to be turned in by the September Get-Together, and the winner will be drawn at the end-of-season picnic.

Now for the BEST PART!!! All your pix can also be used for the State Ride Challenge! Now, have FUN and get out and RIDE!!!
